QUAKERS FACE STRUTHERS IN TOURNEY CLASH

Team They Play Tonight Will Be First Foe In Warren Meet

17 NORTHEASTERN FIVES TO COMPETE

Salem To Defend Championship In Sectional Competition

Starting on the defense of the championship title they won last year, Salem High varsity basketball team will face Struthers High in the second round of the annual Northeastern Ohio cage tournament at Harding High gymnasium, Warren, next Thursday night.

Draw Bye
Drawing a bye for the first round, the Quakers were paired off with Struthers for a clash at 8:40 p. m. Thursday and, if they survive as winner of that contest, will meet the victor of the Boardman-Newton Falls game at 9:30 p. m. Friday.

Salem's varsity will vie for honors with Struthers in the feature of a three-game program here tonight. Salem girls play Struthers in the semi-final at 7:30 with reserve teams of the two schools clashing at 6:30.

The Quakers conclude their regular 1933 campaign Saturday night, meeting Niles High here.

Pairings for the tournament were held at a meeting of the district's coaches at Warren last night. Coaches Floyd W. Stone and Franklin P. Lewis represented Salem at the session.

Seventeen schools will compete in the event, 15 drawing byes for the first round in which only one game, between Campbell Memorial and Brookfield, will be played.

The Pairings
The pairings for the tourney follow:
Wednesday Night
7:30—Campbell vs. Brookfield.
7:20—Youngstown South vs. Niles.
8:10—Lisbon vs. Youngstown Rayen.
9:00—Youngstown Chaney vs. Hubbard.

Thursday Night
7—Winner Brookfield-Campbell vs. Youngstown East.
7:50—East Palestine vs. Scienceville.
8:40—Salem vs. Struthers.
9:30—Boardman vs. Newton Falls.

Salem Elks Lodge To Entertain At Washington Ball

The annual George Washington day ball of Salem Elks lodge No. 305, B. P. O. Elks, will be held at the Elks ballroom, East State st., Friday night.

W. F. Bolen's Harmony Players will provide music at the dance, which will begin at 9 p. m. Lunch will be served.

The dance is being held by the lodge and the auxiliary for members and guests.

Plans for the affair were completed at a meeting of lodgemen Thursday night. Nominations were received for the annual election, which will be held next Thursday night.

HAVANA ROCKED BY THREE BOMBS

Capital Awaits Word As To Possibility of Revolution

(By Associated Press)
HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 24.—Three large bombs exploded here early today. The capital was awaiting anxiously for morning to learn whether a revolutionary movement rumored for today was materializing.

It was recalled Mexico City dispatches predicted bombings in Havana simultaneously with a concentration movement of rebels from the mainland toward the island.

An explosion of a large bomb in the Vedado suburb at 12:30 a. m. was so far unlocated by police. The other large bombs exploded shortly after 2 a. m.

Five small bombs exploded at the Centro Aturlano at 1 a. m., causing several hundred dancers to flee in confusion, deserting the ballroom.

Unrest was pervading the island as the 38th Cuban independence day began.

Communications were interrupted eastward from the capital, Santiago and Camaguey correspondents reported those cities were quiet but unconfirmed rumors said rebels were numerous around Cienfuegos and the situation was tense at Nuevitas.

After the ballroom bombing, police arrested Bartolome Mas, declaring they found liquid fire bombs in his coat pocket. Bombs were found shortly after midnight at the National Casino.

A dispatch from Santiago at 1:45 a. m. reported the burning of the Jibacoa sugar mill near Manzanillo yesterday afternoon. All buildings were destroyed except the machinery house. The cause of the fire was unknown.

The mill was not grinding this season.

Plan Improvement of Roller Coaster

LISBON, Feb. 24.—Plans are now being considered by the trustees of Elkrum and Madison townships for grading and placing a slag top on the Lisbon-East Liverpool rd., commonly known as the "roller coaster" road. This section begins at Spencer's corners on the Lincoln highway and ends on the south at Crawford's corners, on the Lincoln highway.

Approximately two miles of this road is in Elkrum township and one mile in Madison township.

Funds from the gasoline tax is expected to be used for this labor, so far as grading is concerned, and with the approval of the county commissioners it is probable that a slag top will be placed on this three miles of road.

Auxiliary Feted

LISBON, Feb. 24.—In compliment to the Women's auxiliary, members of John Welsh post No. 275, American Legion, entertained at the post rooms here Thursday night. Former State Senator Charles A. White gave an interesting talk on the life of Washington, while Atty. Charles C. Connell, an officer in the service during the war, was also a speaker.

A playlet was then given by a group of post members, following which lunch was served.

FALLING TREE TAKES LIFE OF MIDDLETON MAN

Samuel Garwood, 79, Instantly Killed Near His Home

BELOIT YOUTH IS VICTIM OF RIFLE

Donald Borton, 15, Accidentally Shot While Cleaning Gun

A Middleton man was killed and a Beloit youth was wounded in accidents occurring in the Salem district Thursday.

Samuel Garwood, 79, R. F. D. Middleton, was instantly killed when struck by a falling tree, while Donald Borton, 15, of R. F. D. 1, Beloit, is in the Central Clinic, suffering from a bullet wound in his left shoulder.

The youth was wounded in the accidental discharge of a rifle he is reported to have been cleaning at his mother's home at 5 p. m. yesterday.

Chops Down Tree
Garwood, lifelong resident of Middleton and vicinity, left his home at 9 a. m., informing his son's wife, Mrs. Raymond Garwood, that he planned to chop a tree in a neighboring yard.

On the failure of her father-in-law to return for lunch at noon, Mrs. Garwood, accompanied by a young daughter, started a search for him and found him lying dead near the tree which he had chopped down.

A limb from the tree is believed to have struck Garwood in the head, a fractured skull being reported to have caused instant death.

Borton, a son of Mrs. Mary Borton, was wounded in the upper part of his left shoulder. His condition is not believed to be serious, Clinic physicians reported.

He was brought to the hospital at 6 p. m. yesterday.

Funeral Saturday
Funeral services will be held at the Christian church, Middleton at 2 p. m. Saturday in charge of Rev. Charles Snyder, pastor of the Columbus Nazarene church. Burial will be in Middleton.

Garwood, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Garwood, was born on May 1, 1854. His wife, Mrs. Maria Hooker Garwood, died 32 years ago. He had been a member of the Middleton Christian church for years.

Two sons, Raymond, with whom he lived, and Charles of Middleton, and one daughter, Mrs. Robert Byerly, Columbiana, one sister, Mrs. Mary Johnson of Lisbon, and nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild, survive.

N. LIMA BLAZE LOSS IS $10,000

Barn Destroyed; 11 Automobiles At Mine Nearby, Lost

NORTH LIMA, Feb. 24.—Loss estimated at more than $10,000 resulted when fire of undetermined origin late Thursday afternoon destroyed a large barn on the farm of William Summers, South ave., extension near here.

Eleven automobiles, owned by miners at the William Nye coal mine, located on the farm, together with several hundred bushels of grain, 30 tons of hay, 200 bushels of oats, 100 bushels of wheat and a quantity of valuable farm equipment were burned.

The loss is reported partially covered by insurance.

Two horses and seven head of cattle were saved.

The North Lima fire department was notified but the flames had gained headway rapidly, spreading over the entire structure and making efforts to save the barn fruitless.

FORMER SALEM MAN IS KILLED AT BYERS PLANT

Hector Patterson, 41, Succumbs in Hospital At Sewickley, Pa.

SLEEVE CAUGHT IN LARGE LATHE

Two Sisters Living In Salem; Funeral Service To Be Saturday

Hector Patterson, 41, of Conway, Pa., formerly of Salem and Leontonia, died in Sewickley, Pa., Thursday from injuries sustained in an accident at the A. M. Byers company plant, Ambridge, Pa.

Patterson's body was dragged into a large lathe at the plant where he was employed as a machinist. His sleeve is reported to have been caught by the machinery.

The accident occurred Tuesday night. Patterson's left side was crushed while he also sustained internal injuries which caused his death at the Sewickley Valley hospital Thursday.

Patterson, born in Greentree, Pa., was formerly employed by the Ohio Edison company in Salem. He had also been employed at the Cherry Valley steel plant in Leontonia while living in the latter city.

Two sisters, Mrs. William D. Smith and Mrs. E. M. Schaefer, reside in Salem.

He is also survived by his widow, Florence, and one son, Ralph, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Patterson, all of Conway.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer will attend funeral services which will be held at Conway at 1 p. m. Saturday. The body will be brought to Salem for burial in Hope cemetery, where brief services will be held in charge of Rev. McBride of Leontonia.

Church Minstrel Will Be Repeated

A minstrel show, presented by the Andrew Bible class of the Holy Trinity Lutheran church, was well received in its premiere in the church social rooms Thursday night and will be repeated tonight at 8.

Music by Frank Yengling was a feature during the intermission. Songs by "Black face" comedians, jokes and other numbers were included on the program.

Charles W. Youtz is interlocutor with Lewis Hirst, Clarence Blackburn, Daryl Everett and James Turney as "end men". Others in the cast are Rev. G. D. Keister, George Izenour, Daniel Balan, Roy Guess, Philip Miller, H. E. Smith, Paul Norderhiser, John Wilkinson, Fred Fineran, William H. Fineran, Edward Hoch and S. F. Sonnedecker.

Minstrel Feature of I. O. O. F. Meet

A minstrel troupe composed of Sebring High school students entertained when members of Amity lodge, No. 124, I. O. O. F., were hosts Thursday evening at an inter-city meeting at their hall, 30th Broadway. The entertainers gave a mock trial on a "$5,000 breach of promise suit." Talks were given by the superintendent of Sebring schools and by the Presbyterian minister of Sebring.

There were about 35 Odd Fellows in attendance from Sebring and several from Alliance. After the entertainment, refreshments were served.

After the regular meeting of Amity lodge next Thursday, an entertainment will be given for the members and their friends.

500 Attend Recital At High School Here

Approximately 500 persons attended a recital, featuring Joe Marsilia, Salem lyric tenor, at the high school auditorium Thursday night.

The recital was staged under the auspices of the freshmen class of Salem High, Marsilia being assisted by the Ladistra choir of Alliance and L. E. Allen and Betty Jane Little, pianists.

Classical, operatic and semi-popular selections featured the entertainment, one of the most successful of its kind held here in recent years.

Chances for Cermak's Life Are Slight

MAYOR ANTON CERMAK

Rector Compares Lives of Leaders At S. O. V. Meeting

Rev. Dayton Wright, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, was speaker at a joint celebration of Washington's and Lincoln's birthday anniversaries held Thursday evening for members of Philip Triem camp No. 43, Sons of Union Veterans, the auxiliary, their allied orders and their families and friends.

In Rev. Wright's speech he compared the lives of Washington and Lincoln, saying, "Although each man lived in a different environment and in a different era, two similarities seem to stand out very prominently. Washington and Lincoln both sought to save the union and a deep religious tone marked their lives in every time of crisis."

Charles Bonsall, 94, was the only member of the G. A. R. who was able to attend and he read a poem, Edwin Markham's Tribute to Lincoln.

Other numbers on the program included: Two vocal solos, "Sons of Liberty," and "Father of the Man We Love," by Harold Babb; piano solos, Mrs. Harold Babb; paper on Washington, Mrs. Florence Zimmerman. After the program a social time was enjoyed.

Lyceum Course Is Planned by Granges

A financial report of this year's institute was read at a meeting of the executive committee of Salem's Independent Farmers' institute held Thursday evening at the Memorial building. Mrs. J. L. Schaefer was elected chairman of the program committee.

Plans were made for a lyceum course among the five granges to help finance next year's institute. The granges are Salem, Nebo, Wadlow Grove, Perry and Goshen and members of each one will prepare an entertainment to be given at each of the other granges.

258 Divorce Cases Filed In Two Years

LISBON, Feb. 24.—A record just compiled by Clerk of Courts John A. Noble discloses the filing of 258 divorce actions during 1931 and 1932. Of this total 148 were filed in 1931 and 110 last year. It has also been shown that 109 children were affected by these actions in 1931 and 76 children in the petitions filed in 1932.

The 1932 record shows 11 divorce cases were contested, and that in 24 cases decrees were obtained by husbands and 83 by the wife.

In 80 cases filed last year, the ground of gross neglect of duty was set up and in 31 petitions extreme cruelty was given as a cause. Adultery is referred to in four petitions and drunkenness was also given as a ground in four petitions. Wilful absence was set up in 16 cases and bigamy in two petitions. Only one annulment was heard by the court last year.

Greenford Church Presents Cantata

A sacred cantata, "In the House of Simon the Pharisee," will be presented by the Bloomfield community chorus at the Greenford Christian church at 8 p. m. Sunday.

FAMILY LEAVES CERMAK'S ROOM IN TEARS TODAY

"Little Chance to Live", Says Dr. Frank Jirka, Son-in-Law

SPECIALIST NOT SURE OF OUTCOME

Inject Glucose Into Patient's Veins to Aid Vitality

(By Associated Press)
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24.—Dr. Frank Jirka, son-in-law of Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, said today he considered the mayor, wounded by an assassin's bullet, had little chance to live, but Dr. Frederick Tice, Chicago heart specialist, said:

"Human life is too complicated to place it on a valuation of chances on the one side against chances on the other. There are too many factors to be considered."

Leave in Tears
Dr. Jirka's statement was made after members of the mayor's family had visited him at the hospital.

The family left the room in tears after a brief stay.

Dr. Tice said preparations were started at 11:45 a. m. to administer another intravenous injection of glucose, a food substance being pumped into the veins in an attempt to aid vitality.

State Senator Richey V. Graham of Illinois and Mrs. Graham, son-in-law and daughter of Cermak, their daughter Virginia, and Mrs. Jirka, wife of the attending physician, Little Marshall Jirka, seven years old, were those who went into the room in addition to Mrs. Floyd Penlay, another daughter.

Requested to See Mayor
Dr. Tice said the family had requested to see the mayor. Previously they had been allowed to visit him only a few times.

State Senator Richey V. Graham, of Illinois, Mr. Cermak's son-in-law, went alone into the sick room at 12 o'clock for a 15-minute stay. He emerged carrying in his hand an envelope on which what appeared to be pencilled notes was written.

Going outside, Senator Graham called Mr. Cermak's daughters and grand daughter, Vivian Graham, to one side of the hospital grounds. There he talked to them for several minutes, apparently reading from the notes on the envelope.

Legion Chieftain Is Xenia Speaker

(By Associated Press)
XENIA, O., Feb. 24.—The new $265,000 nursery and dining hall at the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors' orphans home here was described as "a living monument of the valor and patriotism" of the men who fought in the World War by Louis A. Johnson, national commander of the American Legion.

"There is no greater debt that the American people and the American government can pay those who died in the service of our country, or who today lie helpless and unable to provide opportunities for their children, than to take the place of those fathers until their children have reached the maturity where they can fight their own battles without the handicap of neglected childhood," he said.

Johnson spoke at the ceremonies dedicating the hall yesterday.

Masons Planning Varied Program

A variety of features will combine to provide an attractive program when associated Masonic bodies of Salem hold their February entertainment this evening in the temple, East State st.

The event is for Masons, members of the Eastern Star and their guests.

AMERICAN LABOR AND RUSSIA

American labor's important position as the bulwark of patriotic principles is illustrated clearly in a letter written to Balbridge Colby by Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Woll is opposed to recognition of Russia's Soviet government. He has declared his intention of fighting any effort to force the incoming administration to alter national policy on the issue.

Why does American labor oppose an action which, it is claimed, would create definite advantages for American workmen? The argument for Russian recognition is built squarely on the proposition of facilitating trade with that expanding country. Bitter-enders who have clung to the policy laid down by the Wilson administration, when Mr. Colby was secretary of state, are left protecting a principle against an opportunity for international trade.

Apparently, the American Federation of Labor, has chosen to stand by the principle. More than that, it is willing to fight for the principle. The federation "will not abandon this policy of non-recognition," President Woll promises. "We all continue to fight the alliance of irresponsible radicals and self-seeking capitalism on this issue."

This is as much as to say that a powerful minority of American voters are convinced that agitation for Russian recognition is carried on by scheming radicals, subsidized by self-seeking capitalists. Their victims are so-called liberals easily swept off their feet by enunciation of the price which they have no power to analyze and evaluate. Against this vicious pressure, which might possibly sweep the United States into recognizing a government that has stood longer than many a government with official representatives in Washington, the American Federation of Labor will stand staunchly.

That is the organization's privilege and duty, under the circumstances. What, one wonders, will be the situation when Russia and Manchukuo grow to be old and established governments, doing business with American firms through a realistic duty in such situations more important, perhaps, than the upholding of disputed principles.

BACK TO THE STATES

New interest shown in the general assembly's approach to its part in the task of concluding the experiment of national prohibition is an indication of a greater interest in state legislatures throughout the country. A section of the government, which ordinarily is given less attention than its importance to the people merits, faces a legislative task which will restore part of its former prominence.

To the state senate, which has voted to adopt the Smolka resolution providing for a referendum on repeal of state prohibition laws, probably has pointed out the course the house will follow when it votes on the resolution early next week. The defeat of Governor White's reservation making state repeal effective only after three-fourths of the states have ratified the national repeal resolution is a minor point. It means that nominal efforts at state enforcement will cease if the people support the repeal of state prohibition laws next November. Governor White's obvious intention of being in the parade but not at the head of it probably can be frustrated in this matter without injury to his political favor with prohibitionists.

There could be no exaggeration of the importance of the task which the states must undertake as responsibility for dealing with control of alcoholic beverages is shifted back to them. Wisely, the two major parties have abandoned their campaign promises to block forever the return of the saloon. That all-important measure of protection has been entrusted to the various states. If repeal is accomplished, there will be need to be 48 sets of policy drawn up and placed in operation. It is the most important assignment given to all the state governments since ratification of the 18th amendment.

Acceptance of the responsibility, together with the resultant discussion, will have an important effect on the people's conception of the power of their state governments. During the remainder of this session of the general assembly, it is probable that more statewide attention will be turned on the state-house than has been directed at that curious structure for many a year.

What Others Say

IT WORKS WELL IN ITALY; WHY NOT IN OUR COUNTRY?

An American newspaper man, arriving in Italy, made an experiment to test the working of the Italian system of checking up on alien visitors. Alighting from his train in Rome he checked his hand baggage at the station and wandered off in the city without going to a hotel to register. In twenty minutes he was under arrest and was taken to the police station. He had learned what he wanted to know. The Italian system of keeping track of foreigners works.

Had this American, on arriving in Rome, gone to a hotel and registered he would not have made the acquaintance of the Italian police. His registration, which the hotel would have reported immediately to the police bureau, would have met every requirement, as well as of all his fellow passengers, when he crossed the border from Switzerland. They knew when his train arrived in Rome. When he did not register anywhere they immediately sent out men to pick him up.

This suggests that if the United States had an adequate system of keeping tabs on aliens this country would not be full, as it is, of foreigners who have slipped surreptitiously over the border, and would not be as it is, a happy hunting ground for alien criminals. In Italy—in all Continental countries for that matter—an alien cannot slip surreptitiously into the country and stay for more than a few hours. He must register somewhere and when he registers he must have a passport. If not, he is in the hands of the police at once.

In Italy—and other Continental countries—it is impossible for the foreigner to dodge anonymously about the country, passing here as Mr. Brown and there as Mr. Jones. The police will want to know at once who this Mr. Jones is who has not appeared elsewhere on their records.

All this puts no hardship at all on the well disposed foreign visitor. His hotel or lodging host attends to the routine. The tourist can go about Italy with no bother with the police so long as he keeps himself properly located in whatever town he is staying. He will actually have in Europe much more liberty than a citizen has in the United States, but he must always be on the records.

Something like this could be very useful in these United States, where we now foolishly give ourselves little or no chance to know whether aliens are here rightfully or wrongfully or what they are up to. —San Francisco Chronicle.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Thoughts while strolling: Comical how the younger generation thinks it's so wild. What became of the Six Brown Brothers? Fifi Widener's name suggests a sudden cart wheel. Dean Cornwell is back after three years in Los Angeles, painting those library murals.

One word description of Lupe Velez-raspy. No one suggests a benign English curate like Oscar of the Waldorf. That no-nonsense collection of theatrical press agents at Sardi's—coring apples for apple sauce. Somehow, the town seems happier when Charles and Kathleen Norris come to visit.

Ellis Parker Butler, a Muscatine, Iowa, boy, who made good in the city. Wonder why they yarnish the top of eye bread? Louis Sobel has Gandhi's profile and H. I. Phillips and Arthur Somers Roche could pass for twins. Frank McIntyre uses my father's favorite expression, "Golly, too."

Back home, a "shakedown" was a night's lodging. On Broadway, it's a living. Charles Dana Gibson's signature is like the shore line of a map. Listening to Morris Gest imitate a Chinese woodchopper is about as much fun as anyone can have. With Cobble as the solemn feeder.

One of my favorite people—Mary Garden. Grandma used to employ that Noel Coward smile: "Comes up suddenly like a hiccup." The Pompeian glow of a sunset. I think of driving cows from pasture. The blast from the 515 as she screamed round Fox's Cut. Filmy dreams of boyhood's loom!

At a Lambs' gambol, a high spot was a tottering quartet from the veranda rocker of an actors' home, the youngest is 72, the oldest, 83. Each was a pickish old trapper with the ingratiating air, somehow lost in the modern whirl. "They harmonized in 'Sweet Adeline'." "On the Banks of the Wabash" and "Annie Laurie." And completely ran off with the show.

I have been watching the brave struggle of a married couple with five small children, to open a fruit store in an abandoned Chinese tenement in the neighborhood. Today a curtain dropped on the foreign experiment. The children with bitten faces and running noses were following a baby carriage into which the entire stock had been piled. The mother fighting back tears.

Outside of that sudden plunge in the Empire Tower elevator, no sinking sensation touches that felt in a speeding auto in sudden skid. I saw one this morning near the Ritz Tower execute—what every motorist will say has happened to him—a complete spin and go blithely on as though nothing had happened. It somehow suggested Joey Ray letting go a hiccup in flight.

But alcoholic liars are more accomplished than the motetistic variety. Most every drinker enjoys a swollen pride in recalling exploits of his irrepressible Spenserian days. I was, myself, quite a beer guzzler in my own name, but in telling of it I stretch a pint to a quart and a quart often to a jeroboam. Roscoe Fennell observes, there are three things about which otherwise truthful men will lie: The women they have won, the fish they have caught and the liquor they have drunk.

Nothing so adroitly sums up the theatrical experiment at Radio City as Variety's cocky headline: "Rockefellers in The Show Biz!"

Among current dubiosities is that fabulous fellow, T. E. Shaw—Lawrence of Arabia. He took alone and unaided, Arabia, for the British during the war. At done with Old Cap Collier gusto. Then he passes up honors to bury himself as an army private. And to give credulity another strain, he has just made a translation of Homer's Odyssey. I

SENATE HEARS FARM PROBLEMS

Also Discusses Action On Complaints Against Coast Judge

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Legislation to aid bankrupt farmers came before the senate today while the house attempted to reach a decision on whether to "renew" appropriations for the federal judge.

Pending senate business was the Hastings-Robinson measure to scale down the farmers' debts. It provides for agreements between the debtor and creditors through conciliation commissions with the approval of bankruptcy courts.

A similar bill has passed the house but it applied to railroads as well as the farmers. Under the senate proposal railroads would be dealt with by separate legislation.

Before the house was a report of the judiciary committee recommending that Judge Harold C. Louderback of San Francisco, be censured for his conduct in connection with receivership cases. A minority report urged that he be impeached.

Views of additional witnesses on how to improve existing economic conditions were presented to the senate's finance committee. These scheduled to appear included J. D. Stern of Philadelphia, Mariner Eyles of Salt Lake City and Nathan Adams, of Dallas.

Rapid progress was made yesterday in disposing of the appropriation bills which must pass before the March 4 deadline. The house approved the $315,000,000 navy department measure while the senate acted on two—the billion dollar independent offices and the $6,000,000 legislative supply bills.

Stid to recover $1,500 claimed due for commissions has been filed in court here by R. D. Thomas Co., Philadelphia, Pa., against the Electric Furnace Co., of Salem. Interest from Sept. 1, 1931, is also sought.

Foreclosure petition, with waivers attached, has been filed in common pleas by Walter M. Ward, one of the executors of the estate of Fernando J. Ward, against Clarence P. Ward and others.

The plaintiff claims there is due on a five-year note executed at Salem April 1, 1929, for $284,450, secured by mortgage deed covering 85 acres in section 33, Butler township.

Cure for Hernia

"Hernia" or "rupture" as it is more commonly called, is not a disease. It is a defect due to a structural weakness of a certain part of the body.

This weakness may be present at birth, or it may be the result of a blow or severe muscular strain.

The hernia can be overcome by the strengthening of the weakened tissues. This can be accomplished only by means of an operation.

"Operation" is a word that brings to the mind of the average person a horrible picture. It is not a true picture. When it is done by a skillful surgeon, the discomfort and dangers are so slight that the operation may be undergone safely by anyone.

In aged individuals or persons whose health is poor, the operation may be performed under a local anesthetic. Indeed, this is the ideal method for operation of hernia, because it does away with the distressing nausea and cough usually present after taking a general anesthetic.

I receive many letters requesting advice about the so-called "injection method" for the cure of rupture. I have a rupture. I dread being operated on. Do you advise the injection method for the cure of hernia? This is a common appeal.

Results Unsatisfactory
Some of my readers, perhaps, have subjected themselves to this surgical fad. Most of them will agree with me. I am sure, when I say that the results obtained are unsatisfactory. Do not be misled by unconfirmed statements of successful cure of hernia by injection.

In this method of treatment various substances are used for injection into the tissues. It is difficult to inject the substance into the proper place. In that event it is a failure and adhesions form around the hernia which make the subsequent operation difficult.

In many instances, serious damage has been done to the neighboring tissues. In some cases severe reactions have followed the injection.

Do not confuse the injection method for the cure of hernia with the treatment of varicose veins by the injection method. This is an accepted procedure and approved by the medical profession. The injection method for rupture never has been officially approved.

Danger in Neglecting Rupture
I am often asked whether a truss is beneficial in the treatment of rupture. It all depends on the case. It may act as a safeguard, but in some instances a truss does more harm than good. It diminishes the strength of the tissues and of course never cures the hernia. The rupture continues to grow larger and larger.

Never neglect a rupture. There is always danger that it may cause an obstruction of the bowel. Or there may be strangulation of the part of the intestine that may slip into the rupture. In these cases, immediate operation is necessary; delay may be fatal. A child suffering from rupture should never be permitted to carry this handicap through life.

Do not fear an operation and bear in mind that the longer you delay an operation the more extensive it will be. There is more danger in the neglect than there is in the simple operation used for its cure.

Q.—What can be done for a simple goiter? 2. Is it harmful to sit on stone or concrete steps?

A.—This condition demands specific medical attention. Consult your doctor. 2. Not unless very cold.

The Stars Say:
For Saturday, Feb. 25

A day of rather adverse conditions, with turmoil, confusion and uncertainty is the prediction made from the ruling planetary positions. It will be a lively enough time in both business and personal relations, but in the former there may be exciting situations calling for careful restraint in speech and action lest there be aggravations to hostility that may prove expensive.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of an eventful year albeit with much confusion, excitement and opposition both subtle and open. Much shall depend on restrained acts and careful speech. A child born on this day should be clever, aggressive and enterprising, given to bold chances and extravagances, but may attain fortune and position.

Special Trial Size Vicks Antiseptic Almost All Gone

But Local Druggists Are Selling Regular Size—75c Value for Only 35c—On Money - Back Guarantee.

NEW BAN ON HALITOSIS

Local druggists are introducing a new antiseptic which does everything that a mouth-wash or gargle can and should do — at half the usual price of other quality antiseptics. It is made by the makers of Vicks VapoRub. The name of it is Vicks VoroAnte Antiseptic.

Of course, the only real proof of its quality and amazing economy is actual use. To furnish this proof, Vicks Chemists supplied to druggists—at less than cost—5 million special trial bottles—a 25c value for 10c. These trial bottles have gone so quickly that this offer is now made:

If your druggist's supply of the trial size is exhausted get one of the regular size bottles—75c value—for only 35c. Use it a week. Unless you are delighted with it, your money will be returned.

Mild Enough, Strong Enough
No extravagant claims are made for Vicks Antiseptic. It is simply the best oral antiseptic Vicks Chemists could produce — aided by the chemists, bacteriologists, and pharmacologists of their 16 allied organizations here and in Europe.

They created a balanced antiseptic—mild enough to be used day and night without risk to delicate membranes; yet strong enough to do everything that an oral antiseptic can and should do.

For All Customary Uses
You can use Vicks Antiseptic for your customary way, for bad breath (halitosis); as a gargle; as a mouth-wash; as an antiseptic lotion; and for all the other usual uses.

And Vicks Antiseptic has this additional unique advantage. Born in a depression year, it is priced accordingly—saving you half! Adv.

NEWS FROM NEARBY DISTRICTS

LISBON FORMS STUDENT GROUP

Many Achievements Already Recorded by School Council

During the current school year there have been many innovations and improvements made at the high school through the efforts of the student council. This group was formed in the following manner:

During last summer Mr. Scoutten prepared, as part of his work for an advanced teaching degree, a plan for installing a workable system of student government at David Anderson High School.

When school convened in the fall Miss Van Fossan suggested that Mr. Scoutten put this plan into operation, and so the council began. It is rounding out its first year. According to the program, it will not become fully active for five years. Each year, as the program develops, additional powers and responsibilities become those of the council until by 1937 it will have charge of practically all routine matters of the high school social and scholastic events, management of study halls and numerous other duties.

Such advancements, of course, depend upon whether or not the student body can and will accept the responsibilities in the necessary manner.

The response of the students to requests of the council has been gratifying thus far. During the last year the council has accomplished several worth-while projects. A partial list is as follows:

Regulated traffic in corridors.

Curtailed the accumulation of waste material about the building and grounds.

Devised and installed plan of emptying the auditorium which is quicker, safer and quieter.

Kept building clear of students at noon hour.

Organized and conducted an intra-mural basketball league of nine teams.

Organized and conducted a "21" Tournament for both boys and girls.

Sponsored the ticket sale for the football rally and broke all previous records.

Installed a method of collecting absence reports, which greatly simplifies that chore.

Sponsored a public dance to create a fund to buy a new piano and also to build a trophy case. Work on the trophy case will be started next week.

Sponsored a system of football and basketball rallies previous to each game.

Established this weekly column, written by students.

Created plan whereby school news is sent to newspapers in the county.

Numerous other improvements have also been effected. The credit, of course, for this excellent work goes to the council members. They are as follows:

Seniors—Charles Pike, president; Marjorie Clunk; Mary Ellen Evans, secretary-treasurer; Ray Hempstead.

Sophomores—Fred Springer, Glen Bowman.

Freshmen—Clyde Vanaman, Mary Jane Armstrong.

Mr. Scoutten is Faculty Adviser.

WASHINGTONVILLE

The following Washington and Lincoln program was given at assembly in the school auditorium on Tuesday morning:

Song, school; Bible reading Ruth Davis; recitation, Vera Davis; play, "How Washington Showed Titinius, 6th Grade. S. J. Arnold who has been visiting in the southern states is visiting his brother, H. D. Arnold and family.

Mrs. Margaret Hines was a recent guest of Mrs. Henry Haller.

COLUMBIANA

The second annual Washington's birthday banquet of Benjamin Firestone post, American Legion, was held Wednesday evening in the Columbian Legion hall, about 150 men being in attendance, representing members of the Legion, chamber of commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs whose regular weekly meetings had been combined for the occasion.

The ladies' auxiliary provided the dinner, music being furnished by the red section of the Legion band. R. J. Miller led the singing of war-time songs, with Leo Holloway at the piano. Post Commander Raymond Glicker welcomed the guests and turned the meeting over to Mark Klingensmith as toastmaster. Rev. D. S. Lamb gave the invocation.

War Ace Speaks

The chief speaker of the evening was John B. Garver of Strasburg, an American ace during the World war, who brought down five German planes while serving with the Royal Air Forces of England.

His graphic account of his experiences merited the close attention of his listeners, which he received. He told of combats in the air, bombing the enemy lines, the Armistice, and experiences after his return home.

His address was in itself a plea for peace and for the care of the disabled and needy. Raymond J. Jeff, secretary, Cleveland, former editor of the Columbian Leader, who was born and raised in Columbiana and also in the air service during the World war, gave a talk on the "Buy American" movement. Mr. Jeffreys is one of a hundred speakers that are touring the state conducting an educational campaign along this line.

Tom McCaw of Denison, 10th district vice commander of the American Legion, represented the Department of Ohio on the program and told of the various activities of the Legion, including its stand on national defense and the universal draft act and condemned the activities of the so-called National Economy league, which is attempting to abolish the aid now being given to disabled war veterans whose disability is not officially traced to their war service. Mr. McCaw stated that if this aid is cut off, the burden of support for these men and their families would be placed on the local communities. The only tax relief of consequence that would result would be to lower the income taxes of the wealthy and those who are most able to pay, while the burden would be added to local relief and charity work. Mr. McCaw invited all present to attend the 10th district conference being held at East Liverpool Sunday. Judge Clifford Woodside of Youngstown, who was also scheduled to speak, was unable to be present as he had suffered a badly sprained ankle the day before. The committee for the banquet and program was composed of Post Commander W. J. Eaton, S. E. Tidd and George V. Frye.

Mrs. Nolan Hostess

Mrs. Herbert Nolan was hostess Wednesday evening to associate members of the Entre Nous club at her home, N. Main st. Two tables of bridge were enjoyed, with the prize for high score going to Mrs. Robert Esterly, and low to Mrs. James Sprout. Following the games a delicious lunch was served by the hostess. Mrs. Esterly was a club guest.

A musical service will be held Sunday evening in the Methodist church, to which all are invited. The choir, directed by Mrs. Edgar Miller, will be assisted by J. E. Martin, violinist. Solo numbers in the choir numbers will be given by Miss Helen Coblenz, Mrs. G. G. Patchen, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. C. H. Shontz and Mrs. C. R. Todd, and Messrs. R. J. Miller, H. F. Gilmore and Robert Watkins.

Thursday evening the West Group Fellowship supper was held in the M. E. church social rooms with a good attendance. An illustrated lecture and special music was enjoyed following a coverdish supper. The lunch committee was composed of Mesdames F. H. Grove, John Hum,

R. B. Tyson, Robert Chestnut, J. E. Hollenshead, Dallas Shearer and P. Leep, while the calling committee was Mesdames R. M. Basler, G. G. Patchen, John Fittro, S. R. Lindsay and A. E. Stratton.

Entertains Club

Mrs. Charles B. Buhrman entertained associate members of the Needlecraft club Tuesday afternoon at her home, N. Elm st., with eleven members and one guest, Mrs. Leah Mowen, present. Following sewing and cards a lunch was served. Mrs. E. P. Funkhouser will be the next club hostess.

In celebration of her 12th birthday anniversary, Jean Lundgren entertained 19 girl friends Tuesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lundgren, Duquesne st. A birthday cake in red, white and blue was an attractive feature of the lunch, served following the playing of games.

The Columbiana Kiwanis club will hold a Ladies' Night meeting Monday evening in the Knights of Pythias hall.

R. L. Hawkins and family have moved from East Palestine to part of the Fred Thoman residence, Main st.

H. A. Fullerton is making alterations to his service station, thereby increasing his office and salesroom space.

Mrs. Marion Poulton is reported ill at her home, Fairfield rd.

H. C. Nolan was a Cleveland business caller Wednesday.

DAMASCUS

Mrs. Matilda Atkinson-Minthorn of Newport, Oregon, who visited Rev. John Pennington and daughter, is the widow of the late Dr. John Minthorn, with whom President Hoover spent his early life. Dr. Minthorn's first wife was President Hoover's aunt.

Dr. Minthorn for several years was superintendent of the William Duncan Mission in Alaska. After the death of Dr. Minthorn's first wife, he married Miss Atkinson, who joined him for several years in the mission work in Alaska and continued several years after his death.

Recently she gave up the work in Alaska and is now located in Washington, D. C., setting up some of the mission work in connection with the government.

Mrs. Atkinson and step-daughter with other members of the Friends church in Washington, D. C. were entertained by President and Mrs. Hoover, recently.

Enter Literary Contest

In the District Literary contest which will be held at Damascus High school auditorium Wednesday, March 1, those entering from the Goshen High school are as follows:

Girls duet—Letha Venable and Irene Cameron; boys quartet—Nelson Conrad, Richard Beitel, Ralph Zeigler and Ralph Sangree; reading—Doris Miller.

The schools entering in this district are Beloit, Berlin Center, Goshen, Ellsworth and Milton. The finals will be held March 8 at Austintown.

The Magazine club met for a Louis M. Alcott program with Mrs. Leonard Pearce Wednesday with 16 present. Mrs. Lorena Pearce was a guest. Roll call was answered with a quotation from Louisa M. Alcott. Other numbers were: Paper, "What Has She Meant to American Women"—Mrs. J. C. Gilbert; "Brief Sketch of Her Life"—Mrs. C. E. Hobson. Short playlet in charge of Mrs. L. W. Atkinson.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Charles Hannay, March 22. Hardtimes recipes will be demonstrated.

Garfield Grange Meets

Garfield grange met in the hall Wednesday evening and held an open meeting after the regular business. A program was given. There were 62 members, 29 juveniles and 67 visitors present, making a total of 158 present. The Garfield Juveniles will present part of the program at Pomona grange at Canfield Saturday when State Master Walter Kirk of Columbus will be present. The Juvenile grange sent a basket of fruit to Virgil French who is in the Central Clinic, Salem. The next meeting will be March 8.

Miss Anna Griffith entertained a group of girls Thursday evening, Feb. 23, from Sebring and Damascus at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore. The occasion was a surprise for Miss Myrtle Griffith, honoring her birthday. The evening was spent with games and a social time and refreshments were served. Miss Griffith received several gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Crawford, Miss

Anna Stratton and guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Rhoads of Westchester, Pa., attended a surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Edgerton of Winona, Wednesday evening. The party was given in honor of Mrs. William Rhoads' birthday. A coverdish supper was served. Other present were Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Brantingham, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stratton and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brantingham of Winona.

Observe Church Night

More than one hundred members of the Methodist church attended church night at the church, Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Cameron were chairman of the supper committee and Mrs. C. G. Long had charge of an interesting program. A social time was enjoyed.

Wife Cheers Zangara Victim

William Sinnott, New York detective, one of the victims of Giuseppe Zangara's attempt on the life of President-elect Roosevelt, is shown as he was cheered by his wife in the Jackson Memorial Hospital, Miami, where he is recovering from the effects of a headwound. Sinnott, who acted as bodyguard to Mr. Roosevelt in New York, was enjoying an off-duty vacation in Florida when he was shot.

What Women Need

DELAWARE, O., Feb. 24—Here, take it from Miss Elizabeth M. Osborne, New York consultant in dress, is what it takes to make "a good looking woman": "Carriage or figure, 50 percent; clothes, 25 percent; and grooming 25 percent." Facial beauty? "Why that," said Miss Osborne who is lecturing Ohio Wesleyan university co-eds, "is only a part of grooming. A pleasant expression is the most important factor in good looks, for it helps to create a pleasing appearance and that is the definition of good looks."

77 County Pupils Attend Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Feb. 24.—Columbiana county has 77 students at Ohio State university at the present time, according to Miss Edith D. Cockins, registrar. Every county in the state is represented in the student body of 10,000.

It is estimated that 800 young people from this county have attended the university since it opened its doors in 1873. The county has been represented in practically all of the university's 10 colleges which give instruction in many fields.

In addition to the training given these students, the university has aided the local community in many other ways. Its services in educational research have been used by every school district in the state.

Discoveries made in the college of agriculture and brought to the attention of farmers throughout Ohio by the extension service have been worth thousands of dollars to agriculture, university officials say. Experiments and discoveries in the campus laboratories have been worth millions of dollars to industries of the state, it is estimated.

Bread Is Subject For Court Debate

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 24.—What's the difference between a roll and a loaf of bread?

And do atmospheric conditions in Nebraska affect the size of bread differently than those of Ohio?

Attorneys debated those questions in a suit attacking the constitutionality of Ohio's 16-ounce bread law, being heard today before a three-judge federal court.

The Wonder Bakeries, Inc., of New York is seeking an injunction to restrain the state director of agriculture from preventing sales of loaves weighing 12 ounces or less.

Counsel for the bakeries were expected today to attempt to prove it is "not feasible" to manufacture a loaf in Ohio that will weigh 16 ounces 12 hours after baking.

Out of the Sewer

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 24.—A sewer outlet was screened to retrieve a spurious $5 bill presented at a hearing in which John Russo, 33, was bound over to the federal grand jury on a counterfeiting charge.

The bill was recovered after officers found the fragment of another in a washroom. A secret service agent said Russo had passed fake notes in towns all over Northern Ohio. He was arrested at Chagrin Falls.

Would Hike Prices

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Under a bill prepared by Representative Brand (R., Ohio) the secretary of agriculture would be authorized to spend $1,000,000,000 for 40,000,000 acres of agricultural lands and withdraw it from cotton, wheat and corn raising purposes to prevent surpluses and increase prices.

Abolition of Farm Board Is Predicted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Early abolition of the farm board, which was the Hoover administration's response to farm relief demands, was forecast today by friends of President-elect Roosevelt.

The expressed opinion that the vacancy created by the resignation yesterday of James C. Stone, board chairman, would be left unfilled by the incoming chief executive. Stone resigned effective March 4.

A group of Roosevelt's agriculture advisers, now studying reorganization of scattered federal farm organs, have recommended transfer of the board's activities to other existing agencies as one of the first steps to bring about greater centralization.

Another vacancy on the board also will go unfilled if this plan is carried out. C. C. Tague of California, resigned the vice chairmanship nearly a year ago and no successor has been named.

Stone, whose resignation was formally accepted by President Hoover, said he intends to take a "long rest" in an effort to recover from recent ill-health. His home is in Kentucky.

Members will meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Switzer, West State st.

Cuyahoga County Schools May Close

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 24.—The schools of several suburban towns of Cuyahoga county must be closed to 35,000 children within two weeks unless financial aid is forthcoming.

Governor White was told yesterday. A delegation of 80 informed the governor that tax delinquencies made the towns ineligible for state aid as given certain weak school districts. Leaders of the delegation represented Parma, South Euclid, Bedford, Maple Heights, Garfield Heights.

Governor White told them the state was seeking a method of relief for non-state aid districts and promised cooperation in bringing the matter before the legislature.

The Hi-Y club held a meeting last evening. Plans were made for a dance to be held in the near future. Gordon Keyes presided.

Students of the high school and junior high are fortunate in having at their disposal the organization known as the association. The purpose of the association is to budget the expenses of the various activities and to serve the students in any way possible. So far, in its four years of continuous operation, it has been a great success.

A. D. Hazard of the Vacuum Oil company addressed members of the club, mechanics, chemistry and physics classes of the high school Thursday afternoon. Intervals during the lecture period were devoted to questions and answers.

Spring vacation will begin April 7 and end April 16.

Threesome Dance New English Fad

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Wallflowers get a chance in the "threesome dance" being tried out in ball rooms. By the new method, invented by Alex Moore of the British board of ballroom dancing, each man dances with two women at once.

The two women stand one behind the other, facing the man, who dances with them as if they were one. Moore predicts it will become popular, especially in dance halls where more girls than men are present.

Spring vacation will begin April 7 and end April 16.

Interesting Items For Students, Teachers and Parents

BY RALPH LONG, JR.

Members of the Salemsmiers, high school dramatic organization, will present the playlet, "George Washington in Modern Life" at the entertainment by associated Masonic bodies this evening in the Temple East State st.

Members of the cast are: Kathryn Iadd, Robert Clunan, Robert Snyder, Perry Long, Clarence Hartough, Max Long, Ruth Obenour, Mary Ruth Greenlee, Dorothy Asty, Dorothy Benzinger, Troy Cope, Albert Allen, Duane Dillworth and Robert Carey. Kathryn Taylor and Robert Wentz will provide the musical accompaniment.

The make-up committee is composed of Mary Ruth Allen, Mary Bunn and Jean Gallatin.

The number of activities permitted a student in high school depends upon the average of the student's grades. Every student is permitted one activity. However, one must have an average of C for two activities, B for three and A for four. Every six weeks the lists are checked.

It was decided that members of the Hi-Y club would sponsor another "mixer" in a meeting held yesterday. This dance is scheduled Friday, March 3 from 4 until 6 p. m.

Dick Albright's orchestra will provide the music. A short program consisting of two piano numbers by Kathryn Mith and readings by Dorothy Wright was given following the meeting.

Open Log Market

MARION, Feb. 24.—The log cabin market—a grocery operated by the Green Camp Baptist church to help pay off the church debts—is open for business as usual, despite insistent efforts of robbers to cut down its profits. The other night burglars carried away coffee, candy and other supplies valued at $27. On Christmas Eve two rumen held up the pastor, Rev. V. P. Powell, while he was in charge of the store, and took $25 from the till.

Seeks Story Book Ending to Career

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 24.—William Pritchard, 80-year-old Welshman, who says he has made and lost a fortune ranching in Montana, has arrived here "to find consolation in the old country."

"I have carried in my mind," he said, "the memory of a little school, girl friend, and I am going to search for her."

"If I find her and she is free, I hope to marry her and my life will then and just like a story book."

To improve Any child's APPETITE

A sluggish appetite means a sluggish colon. Correct this condition called stasis, and see how quickly a listless, drooping boy or girl begins to eat—and gain! The only "medicine" such children need is pure, unadulterated fig syrup.

California syrup of figs is doing wonderful things for ailing, sickly children all over the United States. If your baby, boy or girl is bilious—pale-faced and dull-eyed from constipation—breath bad mornings, tongue coated all the time—don't give cathartics that weaken twenty feet of bowels! Instead, a little syrup of figs that doesn't disturb either stomach or bowels, but does act on the lower colon—where the trouble lies.

Nature never has made a finer laxative for children; they all love the wholesome, fruity flavor of the real California syrup of figs. It's purely vegetable, but every druggist has it all bottled, with directions. Begin with it at once. Your child will soon be eating better and feeling better. Keep on with the syrup of figs a few days and see amazing improvement in appetite, color, weights, and spirits.

Children who get syrup of figs, now and then, keep well and avoid colds.

NOTICE: The bottlers of California Syrup of Figs respectfully warn mothers that the promises made here apply only to the genuine product in bottles plainly marked CALIFORNIA.

Royal Student

A rarely photographed scion of one of the oldest royal houses in Europe, Otto von Hapsburg, oldest son of the late Emperor Charles and former Empress Zita of Austria-Hungary, is shown as he strolled in the German capital, where he is a student at the University of Berlin. The young man holds the title of Archduke, but in the event of a monarchical restoration, he would be the logical ruler of Hungary.

Alliance Man Works For U. S. 52 Years

ALLIANCE, Feb. 24—Starting as a utility clerk in the Alliance post-office in January, 1881, C. C. Shaffer, now postmaster, has spent 52 years in continuous employment in the U. S. Postal department.

His first job, in the days before house-to-house mail delivery, paid him $20 a month.

Saved by Friend
MARION, Feb. 24—William Southers, 34, is alive because his friend, John R. Blankenhip, 15, thinks and acts quickly. The two were on a loaded coal car when a lump turned under Southers' body and he fell on the track in the path of an approaching train. Injured and unable to move, Southers called for help.

Blankenhip rolled him from the track a moment before the train passed. Southers is being treated for a fractured pelvic bone.

Plan Negro School
CINCINNATI, Feb. 24—A college for Negroes, to be called the Central City college has been proposed to the board of education here.

Negro students at the University of Cincinnati, said the Rev. A. Fitzhugh Wallace, Negro minister, have little opportunity to participate in college social life and suffer by being forced to make racial traits conform to standards foreign to them.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—Spring sports at Oregon State College took a decided drop for economy reasons this year. The 16-game Northwest Conference baseball schedule was dropped.

Swimming, golf and tennis were done away with, and track curtailed so that, like baseball, the athletes will take part in only a few meets with nearby schools. The University of Oregon underwent a similar cut in its sports calendar.

Extortion Defense Will Oppose Delay

ROANOKE, Va., Feb. 24.—Defense counsel prepared to oppose any further postponement in a hearing set for today for two young men and a woman charged with participating in a plot to extort $50,000 from Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

After two postponements, United States Commissioner Charles D. Fox, Jr., said further continuance would be granted only in the event government officials could give some specific reason for requiring more time to investigate charges against Joe Bryant, 19, Norman T. Harvey, and his wife, Elsie Harvey, 26.

At previous hearings the government asked postponement in order to make further investigations into the exchange of the extortion letters, threatening to kidnap Colonel Lindbergh's second son if the demand for money was not complied with.

Bryant and Harvey are held in jail after failing to raise bail of $5,000 and $7,500, respectively. Mrs. Harvey is at liberty under a $5,000 property bond.

Jack and the Missus Step Out

Known for their aversion to formal dress Vice-President-elect and Mrs. Garner simply had to don the "glad rags" to attend the dinner given at the White House by President Hoover in honor of the Speaker. So the folks back home in Uvalde, Texas, needn't worry about their Jack having purposely gone "high hat." The occasion demanded formal attire and here are the Garners enroute to the dinner.

Stickup Business Going to the Dogs

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—From Frank Bourke's point of view, as reported by the police, the stickup business isn't all that he says it should be. The principal trouble, he complained, was that too many boys with bad morals got into it, and he spoke from first hand experience, the police said, because he confessed participation in 200 robberies. Three of his alleged companions were also held.

"These boys," the police quoted him as saying in referring to his companions, "weren't much good. John Harbut was too afraid. John Lancski was a good man, but he used to short change me. The other one, Walter Vanevar, always was hoping he'd get to kill somebody. You couldn't make business men out of them. They took their daily pay and went out in the evenings to spend it on drinking and such. That's why we got caught."

THEATER Attractions

CAST in the mould of pictures which have made Ruth Chatterton's most conspicuous successes, and have made her a name to conjure with wherever lovers of fine acting are assembled. "Frisco Jenny," her latest production, plays today and Saturday at the State theater.

"Frisco Jenny" is the story of a woman who ruled the vice element of a large city. The sweep of the drama takes it across a quarter of a century of human life.

Pictures of Quake

Opening on the eve of the great earthquake and fire that laid San Francisco to waste in 1906—the picture traces the colorful career of a daughter of the old underworld as it weaves itself through the changing life of the new San Francisco to the moment of surprise sacrifice that climaxes the story.

Running through the pattern of emotions and events is a vivid and gripping tale of mother love and those of you who saw Miss Chatterton in "Madam X" know how well she plays such roles.

Donald Cook plays the son. Also prominent in the cast are James Murray, Louis Calhern, Pat O'Malley and Noel Francis.

Quake Scenes Realistic

The scenes of the earthquake and the subsequent fire which completed the destruction of the city by the Golden Gate have been pronounced by experts to be marvels of realism and catastrophic power.

Old Chinatown lives again in all its sinister secrecy, with its miles of catacomb-like passages and dwellings. The reckless, tumultuous night life of San Francisco, unique among cities of the western hemisphere, is enacted so vividly that many an old-timer who has witnessed the previews of the picture has breathed a sigh for the glamor of those days.

Strolling along Hollywood Boulevard

John Boles was "discovered" by Gloria Swanson. Ralph Morgan was noted out by Eddie Collins, later of the White Sox, for second base at Columbia U. Alan Livingston was a star sprinter and boxer in college days. Frank Berzage was brought up on a farm. Clara Bow's screen debut was as a stowaway in "Down to the Sea in Ships." Alexander Kirkland once spent two months in a French monastery. Heather Angel would like to be a farmette and raise saddle horses. Sally Eilers raises Aberdeen Scotties.

Elissa Landi likes pearls best. El Brendel's ambition is to own a zoo. Milton Jordan refuses to take long walks in the rain, when it rains. Victor Jory collects first editions. Boots Malloy, tallest actress under contract at 5 feet 6 inches, eats lots of spinach.

Warner Baxter has a chauffeur but always drives himself. Herbert Mundin studied the piano three years, and can't play a note. Marian Nixon weighs 98 pounds. Lillian Harter, the "conventual cocktail," weighs 94. Janet Chandler was a goon model. Henry Garat asks to pronounce it Garah, accent on the first syllable, please.

Counterfeiting Plot Totalling $100,000 Traced to Soviet

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The New York Times today said the origin of $100,000 in counterfeit $100 bills, many of which were successfully passed last month in Chicago, has been traced by federal agents to Soviet Russia.

The paper said the notes have been pronounced by experts of the treasury department to be the most genuine appearing counterfeiters ever uncovered. They were said to have been made six years ago.

The government is investigating a report that Dr. V. Gregory Burton, New York physician who was arrested on January 4, as the American principal in the alleged international counterfeiting plot, is, or was, an agent of the Soviet government, the Times said. It is believed an international effort is being made to determine the identity of those higher in the scheme than Burton is alleged to be.

United States Commissioner Francis A. O'Neill has recommended the removal of Dr. Burton to Chicago where he and "Count" Enrique Dechow von Bulow, German aviator, have been indicted on a charge of possessing and passing the notes. Von Bulow, now held in Chicago, is said to have confessed his part in the plot.

Veteran Senator To Wed In Havana

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24.—Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, 74-year-old veteran of Washington's congressional halls, flew from Miami today for Havana, where he will be married tomorrow to Senora Nieves Perez Chaumont de Truffin, widow of a wealthy Havana business man.

Their honeymoon "will be a trip from Havana back to Washington." Senator Walsh said before boarding the Caribbean clipper for the two-hour flight to the Cuban capital.

The wedding will take place at the United States embassy in Havana. Senora Truffin, a leader in Havana society life, is the widow of Regino Truffin, sugar producer and business man. He died in 1928. She was the mother-in-law of Clemente Valquez Belle, former president of the Cuban senate, who was assassinated last September in Havana.

She is an old friend of Senator Walsh, and for several years has kept in close touch with affairs in Havana and Washington.

Senator Walsh's wife, the former Elinor C. McClements of Chicago, died August 30, 1917. They were married August 15, 1899.

Forgot Which Way Auto Was Going

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—When George Graham's automobile stalled on a railroad right-of-way he was naturally concerned because a train was coming.

The train was on another track but he wasn't sure that it would clear so he got out and gave the old bus a lusty crank. It leaped out in front of the train. He surveyed the wreckage and said: "I should have remembered that I had left it in reverse."

Mission to China

OVER THE BACKBONE. PRISON CONDITIONS. BROKEN HOMES.

—By Arthur Brisbane—

(Copyright, 1933 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

LAS VEGAS, N. M.—The Pullman car in which this is written, bound for California, with a one-day stop at the Grand canyon, is at this moment passing over the backbone of the North American continent through the Rocky mountains. Raton pass, 7,000 feet up.

The air is mild, full of life, sunshine brilliant, powerful in active rays. Some day civilized Americans will live on the heights, and fly down to attend to business, as the eagles do. Perhaps, like the eagle, they will usually live to 100 and older.

A SAD spot comes a little way down the western side of the backbone, where many empty abandoned houses stand lonely, abandoned. There was a strike, at the wrong time, the mines have not reopened, nobody knows when they will reopen.

Strikes, no matter how just they may seem to strikers, should be carefully considered at a time when operating at a profit is difficult and a walkout may mean for the employer an easy way to discontinue losses.

If his workers must strike in these times, let them strike cautiously and after thinking it over for themselves.

IN DENVER, "back east" of this train, a bishop, the Rt. Rev. Irving P. Johnson, a member of the state board of corrections, talks plainly to Colorado about prison conditions.

"There are some men who go to prison because they have no influential friends to keep them out. Our moral laws have been cut to pieces like a jigsaw puzzle, and the pieces have not been put together again."

He makes this suggestion: "Liberate all the prisoners of Canon City, and put professional politicians in their places for three years. It would be no more injurious to the public."

The bishop's son, who is a judge in the juvenile court, says: "The idea that 'broken homes' or divorced parents are to blame for juvenile delinquency is wrong. In numerous cases a 'broken home' might be of advantage."

Judge Johnson says that with boys in his court, bicycle and automobile thefts play an important part. Among girls, 80 per cent are accused of violating the laws of morality.

SIR MALCOLM CAMPBELL, driving his automobile 272 miles an hour on Daytona Beach, back of John D. Rockefeller's winter cottage, proves willing to risk his life showing what machinery can do. No such speed could be of use on the earth's surface, except possibly in driving a fleet of armored tanks, with a sharp blade across the front, and cutting scythes on either side, like the scythes on old chariot wheels, against marching regiments of infantry or cavalry.

THIS country, which has undertaken no experiments on its own account since it successfully built the Panama canal, might well experiment with improved flying machines. Lieutenant Williams, one of our best flyers, long holder of the American speed record, points out that Italians and British, spending millions, competing for the Schneider cup and reaching a speed above 400 miles an hour, do not make such efforts "for amusement."

"Give a fighting pilot 50 miles per hour more speed," says Lieutenant Williams, "and he will wipe out a whole fleet of slower planes."

Uncle Sam, satisfied to watch Britons and Italians develop the fastest airships, while France builds the greatest fighting air fleet, may learn later that he is making a mistake now.

CHANCELLOR HITLER, German self-made ruler, favors "total disarmament" and will go to any length to promote it.

He says to other nations: "Do away altogether with armies and Germany will gladly scrap hers also."

It is a good suggestion, but will not happen. Hitler continues his attacks on Catholics of the German "Centrist party," suppressing Catholic meetings and publications. It is a curious thing that in Mexico and in Spain men born Catholics are fighting the Catholic church, and Hitler himself is a Catholic.

The antagonism that Hitler's attitude has aroused in Bavaria and other German Catholic centers, will make it hard for him to go as far as he hopes to do.

ORGANIZE NEW DETROIT BANKS

Financiers Await Approval of Comptroller of Currency

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT, Feb. 24.—Organization of two new banks to take over the liquid assets of the First National Bank and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, the two largest in Detroit, today awaited the approval of the comptroller of the currency in Washington.

The plan, which has tentative approval of the treasury department, is designed to make available at once 50 per cent of all deposits and is seen as a shortcut to solution of financial problems which caused Governor William A. Comstock to issue a bank holiday proclamation on February 14.

As the plan is explained, the new institutions would have not only the liquid assets of the old banks but from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 contributed to the capitalizations by large depositors.

The new banks would begin business 100 per cent liquid, holding only currency and securities of the federal government. As rapidly as liquidation of other assets could be accomplished, they would be transferred from the old to the new banks. Officials said they expected the ultimate liquidation, so far as the banks themselves were concerned, to be 100 per cent.

During this period of liquidation, the two new banks would provide the city with banking facilities while the old banks would carry on no business other than cashing assets.

Ford Won't Subscribe

At Dearborn, it was said that Henry Ford would not subscribe to the new capital fund of either bank. He is the largest depositor in each institution. He let it be known that he would not withdraw those deposits, which it was stated, he considered a substantial contribution to the new financial set-up.

Meanwhile, the 520 Michigan banks continued on the modified holiday schedule provided in the governor's second proclamation, issued Tuesday. Most of them were limiting withdrawals to five per cent of deposits, or other fixed percentages. In Berrien county, however, business was being carried on as usual, as was the case in the upper peninsula which has not been affected by the holiday orders.

Deposits of the First National bank, Detroit, were given on Dec. 31 as $423,357,897, and the Guardian National, $138,385,923.

JAPAN BEGINS DRIVE ON JEHO

Modern Army of 60,000 Pushes Against Poorly Equipped Foe

(By Associated Press)

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, Feb. 24.—Japan has officially started its military campaign to annex the rich Chinese province of Jehol to the Japanese-occupied state of Manchukuo.

The most powerful Japanese forces massed in Manchuria since hostilities with the Chinese began 17 months ago was being poured into eastern Jehol today along two routes, about 150 miles apart.

Japs 60,000 Strong

A modernized Japanese army, with tanks, bombing planes and armored cars, believed to total 60,000, is expected to raise the flag of the rising sun in Jehol city, or Chengtefu, the provincial capital, in anywhere from a week to a month. Opposing this army are 150,000 poorly equipped Chinese under several commanders.

Reports from Tungliao, starting point of the northern drive, said an infantry division, from Japan, a veteran cavalry brigade and a native Manchurian force were plodding through a snowstorm against Chinese concentrations of volunteers in the Kailu region.

A big Japanese force of cavalry, infantry and artillery was directed against Chaoyang, second largest city of Jehol, and the shortest route to the seat of the Chinese government at Jehol city. These included mostly veterans of the battle resulting in the conquest of Shanhaikwan in early January.

The sixth infantry division, from the southern Japanese island of Kyushu, was heading through the northern blizzard, commanded by Lt. Gen. Masayemon Sakamoto. This and the eighth division are expected to bear the brunt of the campaign.

With General Sakamoto's troops was the fourth cavalry brigade which figured in the northern Manchuria drive in December.

Marching with the Japanese is the army of the state of Manchukuo, commanded by General Chang Hui-Pen. Its advance into Jehol from the Tungliao region started early yesterday.

The main Japanese movement on both fronts was delayed until the lapse of the 24-hour ultimatum issued to the Chinese government last midnight.

Chinese volunteers were reported encountered early today by Japanese troops in the north at Mollung, 2 miles southwest of Tungliao. They were said to have been dispersed.

Nearly 20,000 fresh recruits from Japan are in the force being dispatched into Jehol. All 21-year-old youths called to the colors last month. Their presence was expected to permit veterans to be sent to the front.

The Jehol operations cover a much more extensive area and oppose much larger Chinese forces than any of the series of campaigns waged by the Japanese in establishing the state of Manchukuo in Manchuria. The biggest previous campaign was the capture of Chinchow, Manchuria, by 12,000 troops in January, 1931.

Salem Boxers Face Tests in V. F. W.'s Ring Show Tonight

Salem pugilists, involved in two contests on the attractive fistic show sponsored by Allen Reynolds post No. 892, Veterans of Foreign Wars, face vaunted opposition at the V. F. W. home, Vine ave., tonight.

Takla Meets Biederman

The card features a main go between Takla of Cleveland and Bobbie Biederman of Dover, but the interest of the Salem fight fans is mostly centered on the other imbrologos in which Kid O'Neal and "Smoky Joe" Danielak, both of Salem, will be involved.

O'Neal participates in the semi-final argument with Tommie McKenzie, Canton, 1932 Stark county champion at 135 pounds, while Danielak, Columbiana county's welterweight champ, vies for mitt honors with Young Tiger Flowers of Massillon.

McKenzie has already defeated O'Neal in a previous bout at Canton, according to Matchmaker Jim Browder, but the Salem battler, anxious for revenge, has improved rapidly and hopes to even the count in tonight's fracas.

Flowers Meets Danielak

They will collide over the six-round route.

Danielak meets Flowers in the main preliminary of four rounds. In the Massillon fighter he opposes a scrapper who has established himself as one of the best in the Stark county area, a lad who has a powerful punch and is a fine boxer.

Petie Perrotti of Canton will meet Homer Brogan of Dover in the four-round curtain-raiser.

Leo "Mugsy" Mullane of Canton, widely known as an official throughout the state, will referee the bouts. They will all be to a decision of two judges, Jesse Kaufman and Robert Medier, and the referee.

Harry Hayner will be the time-keeper.

LISBON TACKLES POTTERY CAGERS SATURDAY NIGHT

LISBON, Feb. 24.—Saturday Lisbon High school cagers journey to East Liverpool where they will play their final game of the season. Although their past record has been only fair, Lisbon cagers hope to defeat the strong Blue and White squad of that city.

Reese Plays Last Game

Fred Reese, a senior, who will be playing his final game for Lisbon will be playing and trying to make this game his best. DeWitt Williams, also a senior, will be trying to keep his Tri County League standing which he has brought up considerably in the last few games.

Paul Rudabaugh, a sub, may start. Jack Howard is the other senior who will be playing his last game under the Blue and White.

Besides these seniors, we find the underclass men waiting for their chance, especially Paul Alexander, Paul Ward and John McCoy, who have been sitting on the bench most of the season.

Repole, Grier Will Clash In Alliance

ALLIANCE, Feb. 24.—Claire Repole of Steubenville will meet Tiger Rosey Grier of Massillon in the four-round bout which will feature a fight show at the Barnes auditorium here Tuesday night.

An attractive supporting card with Harry Weekly (Alliance) meeting Mickey McCune (Steubenville) in the semi-final has been arranged.

Dayton Cagers Win

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 24.—The University of Dayton defeated a 39 to 26 victory over the University of Toledo in an Ohio conference basketball game last night. The Flyers led throughout holding a 19 to 14 margin at the half.

FOREMEN'S CLUB DROPS 1ST GAME IN CITY LEAGUE

Mullins Outclassed By Golden Eagle Squad In 32-25 Battle

Golden Eagle cagers, first team to upset the "Foremen's" Orphans, stepped into the spotlight again with another thrilling victory, handing the Mullins Foremen's club a decisive 32-25 setback in Class A league competition at the Memorial building gym last night.

It was the first defeat sustained by Mullins in the second half championship race.

Bob Campbell III

The Foremen, handicapped by the absence of Bob Campbell, who is ill with neuralgia, were outplayed most of the game with Bill Smith, Bunker Hill and Max Caplan setting a fast pace.

Edgar Sheen's Super-Service station five benefited from the defeat of the leaders and is now but one-half game behind Mullins. The Sheenmen, with Gordy Scullion, Charlie Quinn and Harry Vogel, handed the Smith Dairy five a 42-27 beating.

Orphans Win, 44-17

The Orphans ran wild in third and fourth periods to lick the Old-Timers, 44-17. Play in the first and second quarters was close but the first half champs ran wild in later stanzas to win handily.

Doctor-Grapppler Hurt In Ring Tilt

(By Associated Press)

MUNCIE, Ind., Feb. 24.—Dr. Ralph Wilson, physician and professional wrestler, was reported "greatly improved" today from an intra-cranial hemorrhage and concussion suffered in a match with Wee Willie Davies last night.

Dr. R. A. Beeson, attending physician, said the hemorrhage was "slight" and that "we expect recovery." He said Wilson, former 175-pound champion of the Western conference, was "fairly clear mentally."

Findlay Wins Over Bluffton

(By Associated Press)

BLUFFTON, Feb. 24.—Findlay and Bluffton were tied today for second place in the Northwest Ohio conference basketball race after a game last night which Findlay won, 26 to 23. Score at the half was Findlay 14, Bluffton 10. Each team has won four games and lost three.

Akron On Top

(By Associated Press)

AKRON, O., Feb. 24.—Held to a 13 to 11 lead at half-time, the Akron Zippers put on a drive which carried them to a 32 to 18 triumph over Baldwin-Wallace last night.

BUCKEYES SEEK NINTH STRAIGHT

Ohio State Will Oppose Hawkeyes Saturday, Purdue Monday

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Feb. 24.—Ohio State University's championship basketball team was ordered to entertain today in search of its ninth and tenth consecutive big ten victories.

Tomorrow night at Iowa City it will strive to repeat the 38 to 23 victory it scored over Iowa's Hawkeyes here last Monday. On the return trip, the Buckeyes will stop at Lafayette, Ind., for a tilt with Purdue Monday evening. With four games remaining on its schedule, Ohio needs two victories to be assured of at least a tie for the title and three wins out of four starts for undisputed possession of first place.

Bob Colburn, Dayton, has jumped into the scoring lead over his lanky teammate and fellow townsman, Wilmer Hosket, star tip-off man, by one point. Colburn has scored 109 points this season. Hosket, however, is high Ohio man in the conference with 67 markers and has accounted for 41 points in non-conference games.

Close behind this pair is Lew Hinchman, Columbus, with a total of 96. Captain Howard Mattison has 74; Herb Brown, 62; Bill Beltner, 51, and Fred Conrad, 37.

In the parlance of basketball the Ohio State team should be known as a quintet, but performances throughout the season have given the Bucks a seven man team. Conrad, substitute center for Hosket and Brown, relief man for Colburn and Hinchman, have turned in such sterling work that they are rated on a par with their teammates.

Levisky Favored Over Risko Tonight

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—King Levisky, clouting Chicago heavyweight, rules an 8-5 favorite over Johnny Risko, Cleveland veteran, for their ten round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

The rivals have clashed twice before with Risko winning by decision each time but the betting fraternity figures that Johnny is on the down-grade now and have laid their odds accordingly. Risko is 31 years old. Levisky only 22.

Their bout was to have been held last Friday night but was postponed a week following the death of Ernie Schaaf.

Tony Cancelli, Chicago heavyweight, meets Charlie Massera, heavy punching local boy, in the ten round semi-final.

Ohio Northern Wins

(By Associated Press)

ADA, O., Feb. 24.—Led by Captain Bob Dimond, who scored half the points, Ohio Northern defeated Heidelberg, 40 to 29, in a basketball game last night and increased its Ohio conference victories to seven.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

Two young women with voices so nearly alike that one is the understudy for the other are going on together just to see how they sound.

This idea is to be incorporated in Bob Taplinger's meet the artist program on WABC-CBS Tuesday afternoon when Elsie Hitz, one of the principals in the magic voice program, and Thelma Marsh, who is the understudy, talk to each other. Voice face to face.

Forty-two microphone positions, divided NBC 22 and CBS 20, are to be set up for the all-day broadcast of the presidential inauguration.

A special portable microphone stand has been presented to President-elect Roosevelt by the CBS chain. It is built like a small desk mounted on a pedestal and contains four microphone outlets. It is lined with thin steel, providing bullet-proof protection for the speaker from the chest down.

Two Plans Proposed for Aid Of Ohio Schools; Both Under Consideration in Legislature

Editor's Note: Here is the fifth and last of a series of articles dealing with the financial plight of Ohio's public schools.

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Feb. 24.—Two plans for putting Ohio's public schools on a firm financial footing have received major attention among the many discussed by legislators.

One is that of Dr. Paul R. Mort of Columbia university, hired by the state school survey commission to work out a program for Ohio.

The other is proposed by Sen. D. J. Gunsett (D) of Van Wert county, chairman of the senate taxation committee.

Will Decrease Tax Burden
The Mort plan, its champions say, would phase arbitrary estimates on costs per school and decrease the burden of taxes on real estate from 95 percent to a maximum of 75 percent and on down possibly to 73 percent.

To accomplish this reduction the program calls for the transfer of certain taxes from the current courses—largely real estate—to sources where they could be more readily and less painfully collected.

It is estimated that $140,000,000 is required annually to operate Ohio's schools. The Mort plan does not contemplate increasing this sum.

At present, school districts must have a school tax levy of 9½ percent minimum to receive state aid. Under the Mort plan, this levy would be pared to 3 mills. Districts could vote as much more as they desired, within the law but the 3-mill tax would be compulsory.

State Sets Costs
The state then arbitrarily would set a figure of $17 per elementary pupil and $29 per high school pupil as the sums it would apply to every district where the 3-mill levy has been approved. Then, basing the cost per school on an arbitrary average of $1200 it would make up voluntarily any difference between the $1200 and whatever sum the $17 and $29 allowance, plus the 3-mill levy might create.

If, for example, the levy plus the state's standard assistance figures totaled only $900 for a given school, the other $300 would be forthcoming and thus make possible consistent operations with a minimum of funds available.

Sen. Gunsett said the outstanding feature of his plan is that it would abolish the present set-up of state aid. The Mort plan is "all right," he said, "except that it fixes no method of financing."

"Dr. Mort told me he was interested only in the set up that the financing scheme should be worked out by the legislature," the senator said.

State aid, Sen. Gunsett said, took $4,500,000 from state funds last biennium, "and a bill is in the legislature now to have us appropriate $6,000,000 for the next two years. Where this will stop I don't know."

"But, under my plan there would be no necessity for changing the fi-

"THE LOVE TRAP"

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

COPYRIGHT BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

Mary Kennedy, pretty secretary, engaged to Buck Landers, wealthy, middle-aged sports promoter, realizes love is greater than riches when she meets young and handsome Steve Moore, Landers' ward. Buck surprises Steve and Mary as they confess their love for one another. When Steve refuses to give up Mary, Landers threatens to frame him.

CHAPTER NINETEEN.

Landers left Steve and Mary in the room. He simply strode out, and closed the door behind him. Alone, they faced each other, shaken and disturbed. Humiliation, a tingling sense of shame, burned in Mary's face. Steve was white, his nerves taut.

So far as Mary was concerned, all her connections with Buck Landers were ended—even her position as secretary to the manager of the hotel. But that was not even a minor worry. She could always find employment. Her heart went out to Steve, though. His future with Landers was blasted; he had thrown it away gladly for her. What gripped her heart with a cold terror, was the bloodless threat Landers had made against the youth she loved. Not yet could her mind absorb the deadly menace, but deeper than thought, was an instinct of fear for the safety of the loved one. It was precisely as though an actual chill centered in her breast, and was pumping a cold current through her veins.

"We must get out of here," she said suddenly.

"Yes, we're through here," he responded grimly.

Something caught at her heart with an infinite pain of tenderness. She wanted to hold him with his head on her breast as though he were a child—her child, that had been hurt.

"It isn't your fault—not a bit of it," she told him valiantly. "He acted horribly. And about the money and all—don't you worry

"You don't realize how serious this is. He said he'd hurt you," said Mary.

for a minute about that, Steve. We don't need anybody's money."

He squeezed her hand. "I'm not worried about that. I got you into a dirty mess, Mary—it was a rotten thing to do. Come on, we'll get out of here."

They went down on the elevator, their spirits tarnished. She wondered if he realized that Buck Landers was a dangerous man. Those threats...

"Steve, I'm afraid."

His gray eyes were steady. "No, you're not afraid, Mary. He smiled. 'What is it they say on Broadway? Smile and keep the show on!'"

She was not calm, but tried to seem so. "Well, he's not going to panic us, thank heaven," she declared, giving him a little hand squeeze.

If anything happened to Steve she would want to die. It was curious, too, how all of the bewildering thrills of physical love-making had scattered and disappeared. Thrills were only surface things. Something deep and perfect—as pure as gold—was in her heart for Steve—it had nothing to do with kissing.

"Steve, you've got to get out of town."

"Don't be foolish, Mary!"

"You don't realize how serious this is. They drew aside from the revolving door and lingered momentarily near the entrance of the lounge, off the lobby. "I don't think you realize how tough these people are—people like Mr. Landers. He has men around him that actually are thugs. Gamblers and bad men. Another thing, he said he'd hurt you. When he talks that way I think he means it. You know the papers are always filled up with these gang murders and—"

"Oh, that's nonsense! Buck wouldn't go that far."

"I tell you you don't realize—" she began, and then, looking at him with desperate entreaty, "Won't you please listen to my advice, Steve? You're just a little boy."

It was a mistake to try to influence him this way. He seemed to lean backward slightly; his face darkened with a kind of resolute stubbornness.

"We'll never get anywhere if we try to govern our conduct by your fears," he told her firmly. "I'm not used to this rough talk of Landers and neither are you—that's why it seems so dangerous. He's not going to stand between us—remember that. I don't think there will be any trouble. He was angry and we were the cause of it. But nobody is going to bluff us, or run us out of town." Nevertheless, a sudden genuine worry crossed his expression. "The only thing is—" but no, nothing can harm you. As long as you're all right I can look out for myself."

"But if you would only get out of the hotel, Steve."

He nodded. "That's right. I'm through letting Buck pay my bills. It's early yet, and I think I'll go up and pack my stuff right now. You wait here and I'll be down presently, and have a bell boy check

She found a chair in a shaded corner and while she waited, her mind went back to their affection since the first meeting.

the stuff until I decide where to go."

"But don't be long, dear."

"I'll take about twenty minutes."

She found a chair in a shaded corner and, while she waited, her mind went back over their affection since the first meeting—her first impression of him had been that he was lively and humorous—the odd things he said—and the amusing turns of his speech. She could almost remember every word he had uttered to her; but, more vivid than conversation, she saw that they had been touched, from the beginning, with some strange, golden haze that had grown steadily brighter.

And now it was love.

But it was dangerous love—there was more to Buck Landers' threat than empty words. No man of his powerful will and cold-blooded pride was going to swallow humiliation from a stripling like Steve. Maybe Landers didn't love her—but he wanted her.

"If you don't mind," said an unexpected voice. "I got some more things to say to you, Mary."

She looked up. Landers, sullen but collected, was staring down at her. "I'm terribly disappointed in you, Mary," he went on, seating himself. "You didn't give me a square break, and that puts our whole relationship on a difficult basis. Still, if that's the way you play the game, I'm going to play right along with you. Maybe I had too high an opinion of you—that's why I don't blame you as much as I might. You're not a fool, Mary—and I think you're going to listen to reason. You seem to be stuck on Steve right now. I'm sure you wouldn't want something awfully bad to happen to him, would you?"

She stood up abruptly, beginning to tremble all over.

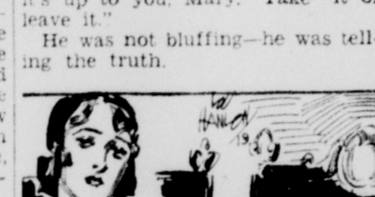

"If anything happens to Steve I would kill me," she cried desperately.

He looked at her with hard, remorseless eyes. "As bad as that? Well, it's up to you, my girl. Come on up with me to my apartment and we'll talk this thing out to the end. We'll put all the cards on the table. Don't think this affair is settled just because you and Steve want it to be. I haven't said the last word yet, and if you value Steve, you'll listen to me. If you don't—well, you can blame yourself for whatever happens."

Her heart almost stopped beating. "But I can't. Steve is coming here himself in just a few minutes."

"What does that matter to me?" Landers said, contemptuous of detail. "I want to talk to you alone, and an hour or two either way makes no difference to me. Get rid of Steve—let him take you home—and then come back here. I'm giving him one chance—one last chance, and you hold it in the hollow of your hand. If you think I'm kidding, wait and see. I'll be upstairs the rest of the evening—and it's up to you, Mary. Take it or leave it."

He was not bluffing—he was telling the truth.

"I'm sure you wouldn't want something awfully bad to happen to him, would you?" said Landers.

"I'm not going to let you hurt Steve!" she said with difficulty. Her voice caught. "Yes, I'll come. Wait in your room. I'll make you see the truth—I'll make you understand that you have no right to interfere with us."

"HAD CONSTIPATION SINCE BIRTH OF MY FIRST CHILD"

Then Mrs. King Discovered ALL-BRAN

We quote from her voluntary letter:

"I have suffered from terrible constipation since the birth of my first child—9 years ago! I have tried everything and nothing had any lasting results. Very reluctantly I tried your 'ALL-BRAN' with no faith in it at all. Much to my surprise, I have not had to take any medicine since starting to use ALL-BRAN, 4 months ago."—Mrs. Doris Eyre King, 16 Abbey Road, Oxford, England.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

GOOD STYLE is never extreme. If you look around at the people who dress in good taste, you'll see that there's never anything "flashy" about what they wear.

Come to think of it...

it's very much the same with cigarettes.

No cigarette should ever be "strong." That means that they should never be too rich or over-seasoned—not harsh or "bitey."

The taste of a Chesterfield is just as near right as we know how to make it.

Not tasteless or flat, not too highly flavored for steady smoking, but with just the right kinds of tobaccos blended the one right way to satisfy.

Chesterfields are mild. They taste better.
